

WRITE UP

Rouche Rouge Your Planetary Housing Solution

With housing prices skyrocketing as the world population reaches a whopping 8 billion - with 10 billion predicted to be in couple decades- you might think if we're reaching the cap in terms of in terms of living space, well think no more.

With our Egg like design powered by efficiently placed solar panels, we ensure supreme air quality with temperature and gravity control. We believe in starting from smaller things and building bigger.

Roche Rogue, literally French for "Red Rock", signifying how a Rock can be used to build homes on the Red Planet.